LAST MEETING VS. LOS ANGELES

Revolution 1, Galaxy 0
The Home Depot Center, Carson, Calif.
4/1/06

Carson, Calif. - The New England Revolution defeated the Los Angeles Galaxy, 1-0, at The Home Depot Center in the teams' 2006 MLS season opener. Forward Clint Dempsey scored the lone goal of the game in the 33rd minute on a free kick off of an assist from Andy Dorman. Matt Reis, the Revolution's all-time leader in shutouts added to his total with his 14th shutout in his 100th career regular season MLS game.

New England got off to a slow start in the match and weathered some early pressure from the defending MLS Cup champions. But the Revs asserted themselves as the half progressed and, after scoring the goal, were able to successfully defuse the same Galaxy attack that had looked dangerous in the early going.

In the 21st minute, Dorman played an inswinging corner kick that fell to forward Pat Noonan. Noonan shot from close range, but Galaxy rookie defender Nathan Sturgis was in the goalmouth to block the shot and clear the Galaxy lines. The Revs then began to control the tempo and to string together passing combinations through the midfield with increasing frequency. In the 28th minute, Dempsey played a chip from the right corner of the 18-yard box to the far post that floated over the heads of both Revs forward Taylor Twellman and LA goalkeeper Kevin Hartman into the goal. No goal was given, however, as Twellman was ruled to have fouled Hartman.

The Galaxy came right back and created a good chance of its own in the 32nd minute. Getting free down the right flank, Gomez played and angled ball into the center channel where forward Landon Donovan made a run to connect on a header. With Reis off his line, the ball instead came through to midfielder Cobi Jones, whose volleyed shot went high over the bar.

The Revs' goal in the 33rd minute came after team captain and midfielder Joe Franchino drew a foul deep in LA territory. The ball was spotted just outside the left side of the area, a yard out from the endline, and Dorman's free kick into the goalmouth found a diving Dempsey, who powered his header from four yards out past Hartman and into the back of the net for his first goal of the season. Dempsey tested Hartman again in the 36th minute, his low drive forcing the Galaxy keeper to full stretch.

Reis' save on a Gomez shot in the 40th minute was perhaps his most important as the Revs went into the locker room with the 1-0 lead.

In the second half, the Revs effectively thwarted the Galaxy's attacking, play while keeping possession for stretches and looking to create themselves. Although LA officially had six shots in the second half to zero for New England, the visitors did enough to keep LA from creating a clear chance for an equalizer until the very late stages of the game. The Galaxy earned several late corner kicks and had a solid chance in the 89th minute when substitute midfielder Ned Grabavoy got onto the end of a Donovan corner kick and fired a low line-drive shot into a crowded area that the Revs were able to clear, preserving the 1-0 victory.

LAST MATCH

Fire 2, Revolution 1
Gillette Stadium, Foxborough, Mass.

Foxborough, Mass. -- The Chicago Fire scored two second-half goals within four minutes to post a come-from-behind, 2-1 victory over the New England Revolution that spoiled the Revs' 2006 home opener at Gillette Stadium on Sunday afternoon. The victory was the first of the season for Chicago (1-1-2, 5 pts.), while the loss was New England's (1-2-1, 4 pts.) second of the season and second in a row after a 1-0 loss to Kansas City in the team's last outing on April 15.

After Revs forward Taylor Twellman sent a header over Fire goalkeeper Zach Thornton in the 54th minute, Thiago scored the equalizer in the 64th before Chris Rolfe put Chicago ahead in the 68th with his unassisted tally. New England out-shot Chicago, 12-9, in the physical contest which saw the Fire commit 22 fouls to the Revs' 11.

After a scoreless first half, Twellman's goal -- his first of the season after scoring a league-leading 17 in 2005 -- came as he headed in an Andy Dorman cross from the right side. Twellman connected with the ball at the corner of the six-yard box outside the left post. His shot ricocheted off Thornton's outreached hand and into the side netting for a 1-0 Revolution lead. José Cancela, making his first start of the 2006 season, was also credited with an assist on the goal.

Thiago tied the contest 10 minutes later when he banked a shot past New England keeper Matt Reis. Logan Pause drew the ball down the right flank and found Thiago at the top of the penalty area just to the right of the circle, where he flipped the ball over New England central defender Michael Parkhurst and sent the ball in past Reis to the low left corner. Minutes later, Rolfe netted his third goal of the season when he sank a cross Reis deflected directly to him 12 yards out. Chicago forward Chad Barrett streaked down the right side and sent the ball cross field, where an out-reached Reis got a hand on the ball, but it went to Rolfe, who was unmarked in the box, setting up the easy goal.

In his first start of the season, Cancela took five of the Revs' 12 shots, including two on net. He was active in the first half with two solid scoring chances. In the 37th minute, he took a Twellman cross 16 yards out and sent a shot wide left. Five minutes later, in the 42nd minute, Thornton made a save on Cancela's free kick five yards off the corner of the penalty area. Cancela again threatened in the 71st minute when his free kick looped into the goal area before Thornton made the save under the crossbar, setting up a New England corner.

New England forward Clint Dempsey had a chance in the 60th minute to put the Revs up 2-0. Midfielder Shalrie Joseph played a through ball into Dempsey who was coming down the center of the penalty area. Dempsey had Thornton beaten with the shot, but sent the ball just wide left. The Revs were close to equalizing the match in the 86th minute when Twellman crashed a header off the crossbar. Cancela served an out-swinging corner kick from the right flag that found Twellman in traffic 10 yards out from goal. Twellman fought off a jersey tug to rise about and snap his header flush off of the bar. The Fire, however, were able to clear the ball and go on the counter attack.

Just before halftime, in the 44th minute, Justin Mapp sent a bending shot in on Reis after a give-and-go at the top of the box with Barrett, but Reis made the save to preserve the scoreless tie going into the half.

Thornton made four saves in the win, including a game-saving stop on James Riley's attempt from 25 yards out through traffic in stoppage time. Reis took the loss after making four saves, while allowing two goals.

MISCELLANEOUS TEAM NOTES

Series History ... The New England Revolution has faced the Los Angeles Galaxy a total of 24 times in the regular season with the Galaxy holding a 12-8-4 lead in the all-time regular-season series. The Revolution has a 6-4-1 record against LA at home, securing a 6-0-1 mark in Foxborough since the start of the 2000 season. The Revs are undefeated against the Galaxy in the last four in-season meetings. Earlier this year, the teams met in the season opener with the Revs coming out on top, 1-0, on April 1 in Carson at The Home Depot Center. Last season, the teams drew a pair of 1-1 ties (July 4 in Los Angeles and July 27 in Foxborough). The Revs also won 2-1 on May 1, 2004 at Gillette Stadium. The teams met in the 2005 MLS Cup, with LA winning the title with a 1-0, double overtime victory in Frisco, Texas.

Star Watch against the Galaxy ... Steve Ralston leads all active Revs in career scoring against Los Angeles, recording five goals and six assists in 22 games, including totals from 14 games as a member of the Tampa Bay Mutiny (1996-2001). In games as a member of the Revolution, Taylor Twellman leads all players in production against LA, scoring three goals and adding three assists in 10 career games. José Cancela has added two goals and one assist in five games as a Rev, while Jay Heaps has a pair of tallies in 10 career contests for New England.

Eusebio Day ... Saturday's game is Eusebio Day at Gillette Stadium. The Portuguese World Cup legend and the former Portugal, Benfica and Boston Minuteman star, will be on hand for a dedication of his statue on the stadium grounds. Eusebio will also be on hand to preside over the ceremonial kick-off.

Pops on the Pitch ... Keith Lockhart and the Pops Brass Quintet will perform the National Anthem on Saturday prior to the Revolution-Galaxy game. The performance will be at approximately 3:45 p.m.

Soccer Hall of Fame Opens its Doors ... The National Soccer Hall of Fame will announce its 2006 Induction Class on Saturday in a pregame press conference at 2:30 p.m. in the Blue Level Press Box. Additionally, ESPN2 will air a live presentation involving two of the inductees at halftime of the Revs-Galaxy game on the Gillette Stadium field.

Double-Dip on Saturday ... Saturday will feature a doubleheader at Gillette Stadium as the New England Revolution will face the LA Galaxy at 4 p.m. before the teams' Reserve squads will square off immediately following at approximately 6:30 p.m. on the Gillette Stadium pitch.

Dempsey Representing the Red, White & Blue ... Revs forward Clint Dempsey was among the players named to U.S. National Team Manager Bruce Arena's 23-man roster for the 2006 FIFA World Cup, which will be played in Germany in June and July. Additionally, Revolution forward Taylor Twellman, forward Pat Noonan, midfielder Steve Ralston and goalkeeper Matt Reis were selected as alternates to the American Squad. The announcements were made live by Arena on ESPN's SportsCenter on Tuesday, May 2. Dempsey will be available for the Revolution match against the Los Angeles Galaxy in Foxborough on Saturday, May 6, before departing for pre-World Cup training with the national squad in Cary, N.C. on May 10. Twellman, Noonan, Ralston and Reis will remain with the Revolution and will join the U.S. National Team if needed.

Two New Faces in the Starting 11 ... On Sunday, two Revs made their first starts of the 2006 campaign as José Cancela (forward) and Tony Lochhead (midfield) were penciled in to the starting lineup. The start was the first of the season for Cancela – and the 59th of his Revs career – while Lochhead appeared in an MLS lineup for the first time in his career.

Lochhead Makes MLS Debut ... Midfielder Tony Lochhead made his MLS debut on Sunday, April 30, when he was slotted into the left side of the midfield in the starting lineup against the Chicago Fire. The second-year New Zealand senior international had spent the previous week in Chile with the All Whites training and playing a two-game series against the Chile National Team. New Zealand lost 4-1 and 1-0 in the pair of friendlies, in which Lochhead started both games in the back line.

Reliving Past Glories for a Cause ... Revolution head coach Steve Nicol departed Gillette Stadium with a Massachusetts State Police escort immediately after the Revs' 2-1 loss to Chicago on Sunday, April 30 to head to Boston's Logan Airport. He was flying across the Atlantic so he could play with his former club – Liverpool FC – as it faced Everton in a 20th anniversary reunion match. The match was a charity event to raise funds for Marina Dalglish Oncology and brought together most of Nicol's teammates who helped Liverpool win the 1986 "double" of the FA Cup and English First Division Championship. Despite the overnight flight and the 7:45 a.m. arrival in Manchester, Nicol played all 90 minutes as Liverpool defeated Everton, 1-0.

John Preparing for World Cup with "Soca Warriors" ... Defender Avery John also traveled during the Revs' off-week to train with the Trinidad & Tobago National Team. John was the designated Vice Captain for T&T in the team's 4-0 and 4-1 victories over the Grenada U23s on Tuesday, April 25 and Thursday, April 27. John has already been named to the Trinidad & Tobago World Cup squad, which will compete in Group B with England, Paraguay and Sweden.

Dorman Serving it Up ... Outside midfielder Andy Dorman, who entered 2006 with six career assists in 50 games, has already collected a pair of helpers through the team's first four games. Dorman has assisted on both New England goals this season – Clint Dempsey's goal at Los Angeles in the season opener on April 1, and then on Taylor Twellman's header on April 30 against Chicago in Foxborough.

ROY Returns ... After missing the team's first two games of the season while rehabilitating a right thigh strain, Revolution central defender and 2005 Gatorade Rookie of the Year Michael Parkhurst returned to the lineup on Saturday, April 15, at Kansas City. Parkhurst started and played all 90 minutes against the Wizards, committing one foul in his return to the field. He then came back to start and play all 90 minutes against the Fire in the team's last outing. The games he missed to open the season – at Los Angeles on April 1 and at New York on April 8 – marked the first two games he missed in his career, as he was the only Rev to play every minute of every game (2,880) in 2005.

Suffering for His Art ... Revolution forward Clint Dempsey holds the league's fourth-highest total in fouls suffered despite playing in one fewer game than eight of the other 11 teams in MLS. Dempsey has been fouled 15 times in four games. Dempsey was fouled four times on April 1 in LA and another six times on April 8 at New York, adding four more on April 30 against Chicago. In 2005, Dempsey suffered 71 fouls in 26 games last season, placing him sixth in MLS in that category.

Making a Home in Goal ... Should he take his usual starting spot in goal on Saturday, Matt Reis will assume sole possession of first place on the Revolution career appearances in net list. He enters Saturday's game with 64 career appearances – all but one of them starts – tied with Jeff Causey. Reis already holds the New England records for wins (25), games started (63), minutes (5,717), saves (239), shutouts (15) and goals against average (1.26).

Matty Bag-a-Donuts ... Keeper Matt Reis added to his Revolution career shutouts record with his clean sheets against Los Angeles on April 1 and his subsequent shutout in the 0-0 draw with New York the following Saturday, April 8. Reis, who broke the club record with his 1-0 shutout win at Real Salt Lake on Sept. 3, 2005, now has backstopped 15 scoreless games as a Revs goalkeeper. Reis enters the weekend atop the league's shutout standings with two, tied with four other players.

Welcome to the Century ... Revs Goalkeeper Matt Reis hit the 100-mark for career regular season games played when he stepped on the field in New England's 1-0 victory over Los Angeles, on Saturday, April 1. He now has 103 career appearances: 64 of Reis' games played have been in a New England uniform – a team record – while the other 39 were accumulated during his five seasons with the Los Angeles Galaxy (1998-2002).

Starts from the Net ... Matt Reis is also atop the MLS leaders in two goalkeeping categories – goals against average (0.75) and shutouts (two) – and is second in save percentage (.789). In 360 minutes in net this season, Reis has allowed three goals on 19 shots on goal. He kicked off the season with a 183-minute scoreless streak, the fourth longest in the league so far this season.

Record Starts Watch ... Should Revs captain Joe Franchino start on Saturday against the Galaxy, he would move into a first-place tie with Ted Chronopoulos for the Revolution career starts record. Franchino enters the game with 139 career starts, one fewer than Chronopoulos' record 140 career starts. Franchino, who joined the Revs midway through the 2000 season and has been captain since 2002, is also approaching Chronopoulos' mark for games played in a Revs uniform (144). Franchino enters this weekend with a Revolution total of 139 games played.

Minute-by-Minute Record ... Revolution captain Joe Franchino has also set the Revs' career minutes played record, a mark he set on April 8 in New England's 0-0 tie at the New York Red Bulls. Having played into the 33rd minute, he became the Revolution's all-time minutes played leader, surpassing the mark previously held by Ted Chronopoulos (12,228). Franchino, who left the Kansas City game in the 14th minute, now holds the record with 12,254 minutes played.

Still the Iron Guy ... Revolution midfielder Steve Ralston, the all-time career minutes played leader in MLS, become the first player in league history to break the 25,000 minutes played mark on April 8 at New York. He enters the Galaxy match having played 25,045 regular season minutes with the Tampa Bay Mutiny (1996-2001) and New England (2002-present). Ralston also is the all-time career leader in games started with 281. If he plays against the Galaxy on Saturday, Ralston will have played 284 games, pulling him into a tie for second on the all-time games started list with Mark Chung, who retired this past off-season.

Lending a Helping Hand ... Steve Ralston is also prominently listed in the MLS record books for assists, entering Saturday's game ranked third in MLS history with 102. Ralston is 10 assists shy second place, held by Preki. Carlos Valderamma is the career leader with 114 assists. With both Valderamma and Preki retired from the league, Ralston is the active career leader in the category.

Leonard to Miss Rest of 2006 ... The New England Revolution announced on Tuesday, April 25 that midfielder Marshall Leonard will miss the rest of the 2006 season after undergoing surgery to repair a full tear to the Achilles tendon in his left leg. Leonard sustained the injury on Monday, April 24 in a scrimmage at Gillette Stadium versus Boston College. Team physician Bertram Zarins, M.D. at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, performed his surgery. The expected recovery and rehabilitation period for this type of surgery is six months.

TNT in the MLS Record Books ... Taylor Twellman enters Saturday's game ranked ninth in career goals in MLS history with 65 in his four-plus year career. Twellman is six goals back of eighth place, held by current Houston Dynamo forward Ronald Cerritos, who has 71 career goals in his 10-plus year career. Twellman is also tied for eighth in MLS in career game-winning goals with 17, a total that is also the New England record.

What I Did With My Winter Vacation ... The New England Revolution opened its 2006 preseason schedule by defeating the Bermuda U20 National Team, 8-1, in a closed-door friendly in Hamilton, Bermuda. Clint Dempsey scored five goals for the Revs and rookie Willie Sims contributed a hat trick and an assist in his New England debut. The Revs improved to 2-0-0 in preseason play on Saturday, February 18, defeating the Bermuda National Team, 3-0, at the National Sports Centre stadium. Dempsey scored twice, raising his preseason goals total to seven in two games. The Revolution then played to a 0-0 draw with Costa Rican team LD Alajuelense on Wednesday, February 22 at the National Sports Centre. Despite creating the majority of the scoring chances, the Revs were unable to score in the home leg of their CONCACAF Champions' Cup Quarterfinal series. Wrapping up its stay in Bermuda, the Revolution defeated the Jamaica U23 national team, 1-0, at the National Sports Center on Saturday, February 25. José Cancela scored on a free kick for the Revs in the 58th minute to give New England the victory. In the second leg of the CONCACAF Champions' Cup Quarterfinal, the Revolution fell 1-0 to LD Alajuelense on Wednesday, March 8 in Alajuela, Costa Rica. LDA midfielder Carlos Hernandez scored on a free kick in the 90th minute to give LDA the 1-0 aggregate series victory. Returning to Costa Rica for a 10-day training camp, the Revs drew 2-2 with the Costa Rica U21 National Team on Wednesday, March 15 at Proyecto Gol in Santa Ana. Sims and fellow rookie Kyle Brown scored for the Revolution. Steve Ralston assisted on both Revs goals. On Saturday, March 18, the Revolution drew 1-1 with LD Alajuelense's reserve team. Defender Jay Heaps scored the Revolution goal. In their last preseason match of 2006, the Revs lost 4-2 to Costa Rican side CS Herediano at the Estadio Rosebal Cordero. Ralston and Cancela scored for the Revs.

San Diego No-No ... Matt Reis posted a shutout in his first-ever U.S. National Team start, a 0-0 draw with Canada on Jan. 22 in San Diego. Canada looked dangerous right from the opening whistle and got its first shot off in the second minute. Dwayne De Rosario raced down the left flank and served in a cross to the far post, where Rob Friend was able to get free from his defender and put a header on target, but Reis was positioned well for the save. Canada continued to control the match early on and had a few more good opportunities, the best chance coming on a 30-yard free kick from the left flank in the 15th minute. Sandro Grande drilled a cross into the box and Marco Reda was able to get position on his defender and win a header, but his redirection went over the bar. Late in the game, Reis earned his shutout when he alertly came out of the penalty area to clear a through ball. Overall, Reis faced 10 shots in the game in which Taylor Twellman also started and went 56 minutes and Clint Dempsey went the full 90 minutes for the Nats.

Landing Leandro ... The New England Revolution selected Leandro de Oliveira out of the University of Alabama-Birmingham in the first round (11th overall) of the 2006 MLS SuperDraft on Jan. 20 at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in Philadelphia. De Oliveira, a midfielder who is naturally left-footed but is skilled with both feet, comes from Bryan, Texas, after being born in São Paulo, Brazil. He had a standout college career at UAB where he was second team NSCAA All-America in 2003 and was first team All-Conference USA in 2003 and 2004. De Oliveira missed much of his senior season with a knee injury. He attended Allen Academy in Texas for high school and started college at the University of Connecticut before transferring to UAB in 2002, finishing a three-year career there.

Adding Talent Left and Right ... In the second round (23rd overall) of the 2006 MLS SuperDraft, the Revolution chose forward Willie Sims out of Cal State University, Northridge. Born in Guatemala City, Guatemala, Sims hails from Los Angeles and was an NSCAA/adidas first team All-America selection after a stellar college career. Sims signed with MLS as a Generation adidas player prior to the SuperDraft. Sims made his MLS debut when he checked in as a 77th minute substitute against Chicago on April 30 at Gillette Stadium. In the third round (35th overall), New England selected Kyle Brown, a forward from University of Tulsa. A four-time, first team All-Missouri Valley Conference selection, Brown also was named All-Midwest for the 2003 and 2005 seasons. Additionally, the Revolution acquired an allocation from the Columbus Crew in exchange for a 2nd round pick (13th overall) in 2006 and a 3rd round pick in the 2007 draft. Both selections traded to Columbus had previously been acquired by New England through trades with Chivas USA.

East Anglia Getaway... Midfielder Andy Dorman and defender Jeff Larentowicz both trained this past off-season with Ipswich Town in England. Ipswich is the club where Revolution assistant coach and former England striker Paul Mariner made his name in the 1970s and 80s. Ipswich competes in the League Championship, the second division of professional soccer in England.

Supplemental but not Surplus... The New England Revolution augmented its 2006 SuperDraft selections by taking four players in the 2006 MLS Supplemental Draft on Jan. 26.

All players who were eligible and not selected in the 2006 MLS SuperDraft and additional players nominated by teams were eligible for selection in the 2006 MLS Supplemental Draft. In the first round of the Supplemental Draft (11th overall), the Revolution selected defender/midfielder Danny Wynn out of St. Louis University. Wynn collected 20 career points at St. Louis (3G, 14A) in 61 games. Wynn can play as a right-sided defender or midfielder as well as at central defense. In the 2nd round (23rd overall), the Revs chose central defender John Queeley out of North Carolina State University. An imposing center back, Queeley started every game in which he played at N.C. State (2002-05) for a total of 68 appearances in four seasons for the Wolfpack. The Revolution's 3rd round pick (35th overall) was Adam Williamson, a midfielder out of Lehigh University. The 2005 Patriot League Player of the Year as a senior, Williamson was a standout participant in the Revolution's tryout at Dana-Farber Field House at Gillette Stadium on January 5.

Who Let the Draft In?... The Revolution has had great success in the MLS SuperDraft in recent years. Head coach Steve Nicol's previous two first-round picks, Michael Parkhurst (2005) and Clint Dempsey (2004), went on to be MLS Gatorade Rookies of the Year. The Revs' two top choices before that, Pat Noonan (2003) and Taylor Twellman (2002), both progressed to win league scoring titles and earn MLS All-Star status. Twellman was the league's MVP in 2005.

MAXIM and Relaxin'... Clint Dempsey and Taylor Twellman both appeared in the March issue of Maxim Magazine as part of a seven-page, seven-player MLS fashion spread. Dempsey and Twellman were joined by five of the other biggest MLS stars: Kansas City forward Eddie Johnson, Los Angeles Galaxy forward Landon Donovan, Houston forward Brian Ching, Galaxy defender Chris Albright and Colorado Rapids defender Pablo Mastroeni. Decked out almost entirely in white – a big trend for the spring 2006 season – the players were photographed by Mark Mann, whose many subjects include musicians Usher and Iggy Pop and comedian Dave Chappelle.

Consistency With a Capital C ... Revolution head coach Steve Nicol is nothing if not consistent in terms of his player personnel. Of the 11 players who started for New England in its 2-2 Opening Day draw with the San Jose Earthquakes on April 2, 2002, only Brazilian midfielder Cássio no longer remains with the club. Of the Revs starters at MLS Cup 2005 on November 13, all 11 are still on the roster, as are the all three substitutes used by Nicol in that match. Overall, 21 of the Revs' 26 players on the team roster for their opening match in 2006 – on April 1 at Los Angeles – were also with the team in 2005. Six players from Nicol's first season in charge (2002) are on the roster to begin 2006: Joe Franchino, Jay Heaps, Daniel Hernandez, Marshall Leonard, Steve Ralston and Taylor Twellman.

Rapper's Delight ... Using the handle "Deuce," Revolution midfielder Clint Dempsey has recorded the hip-hop anthem for Nike's "Don't Tread on Me" soccer campaign, titled "Don't Tread on This," which is available at nikesoccer.com. Boston-based producer Da BeatzSmith was commissioned to supply a backing track, and the vocals were recorded in a studio in Nacogdoches, Texas – Dempsey's hometown. Texas-based rappers Big Hawk and XO collaborated with Dempsey; Revs midfielder Daniel Hernandez and Dempsey's older brother, Ryan, both appear in the video.

Change of Plans ... Major League Soccer announced competition changes for the 2006 MLS regular season, as approved by the MLS Competition Committee. Balanced Gameday Rosters: Both the home team and the visiting team can have up to seven players available for selection as substitutes on game days, bringing the game day roster to 18 players for each team. As was previously the case, game day rosters must be submitted to the referees 60 minutes prior to the start of the game and each team can use a maximum of three substitutes per game. Previously, home teams were permitted to dress 20 total players (nine available substitutes) while the visiting team could dress 16 total players (five available substitutes). Caution Points Eliminated: Players will be suspended for one game following the accumulation of five yellow cards, regardless of the nature of the infraction. A player will subsequently be suspended for one additional game after accumulating a total of eight cautions and a third suspension will be applied after three additional yellow cards (11 total cautions). 2007 CONCACAF Champions' Cup Participants: The team that has the most overall points at the end of the regular season will automatically qualify as one of two United States entries for the 2007 CONCACAF Champions' Cup. The second entry will be the winner of MLS Cup 2006. In the event that the overall points' leader also wins MLS Cup 2006, the second U.S. entry will be awarded to the team with the second most points at the end of the regular season.

The Dating Game ... The New England Revolution have announced a schedule change that will see the team host the Chicago Fire at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 20 (TV – WB). The match was originally scheduled for Saturday, August 19. The Revolution also announced a schedule change that will see the team host Chivas USA at 7 p.m. on Saturday, May 13 (TV – FSN). This match was originally scheduled for August 5, however, the Revolution will now play at Chivas USA on Sunday, Aug. 6. Finally, the Revs' home match against the Columbus Crew originally scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 26, has been moved to 7 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 27 (TV – FSN).

Mornin' Reserves ... The New England Revolution Reserve team kicked off its second season of play at the New York Red Bulls Reserves on Sunday, April 9 with a 3-2 loss at Giants Stadium. Jordan Cila gave the Red Bulls an early lead in the 23rd minute, taking a pass from Thiago Martins and hitting a 25-yard shot into the upper left corner, beating New England keeper Doug Warren. The Red Bulls doubled their lead early in the second half when Mike Magee converted a penalty kick awarded in the 58th minute when Warren took down Thiago Martins in the box after Martins had dribbled by him. New England cut the lead in half when rookie Willie Sims headed home a Tony Lochhead cross in the 75th minute. Lochhead hit a cross from the left flank and Sims cut into the box heading the ball past Red Bulls goalkeeper Jon Conway. New England substitute right back T.J. Tomasso brought the Revs even in the 83rd minute, beating Conway with a right-footed shot after a scramble in the box. New York took the lead for good three minutes later when Magee crossed a ball from the left corner, which was put home by a diving Martins. New England had one final chance in stoppage time when Sims found himself alone in front of the goal with the ball, but Jon Conway made a game-winning save as he knocked the point blank shot over the bar, securing the 3-2 New York victory.

Reserves Next Outing ... After playing Los Angeles' reserves, The Revs' Reserve team will see its next action on Sunday, May 14, when it takes on the Reserves from CD Chivas USA. The game will be played at 10 a.m. on the Lower Practice Field at Gillette Stadium.

New Man in Charge ... The New England Revolution announced on Tuesday, April 18, that Brian Bilello has been named Chief Operating Officer of the team. Bilello will oversee the business affairs of the team, working in coordination with Vice President of Marketing Operations Jennifer Ferron and Executive Director of Sales Murray Kohl, who both continue in those positions with the Revolution, the New England Patriots and Gillette Stadium. Prior to being named COO of the Revolution, Bilello served the Revolution, Patriots and Gillette Stadium in a variety of operational and strategic roles. Bilello joined the organization in 2003 as Director of Quality and Operational Control, where he worked on improving the fan experience across all aspects of Gillette Stadium. Since then, he has gone on to run both the Concessions and Retail Operations and has provided strategic advice to the Krafts on a number of issues related to their sports ventures, in particular, MLS and the Revolution. Prior to working with the Kraft Sports Group, Bilello was a management consultant at Bain & Company in its San Francisco and Boston offices. Bilello worked with clients in the retail, consumer products and entertainment industries. An avid soccer enthusiast, Bilello played varsity soccer at MIT, where he studied engineering and economics. Before joining the organization's staff, Bilello was a Revolution season ticket holder.

Revs to Host Jorge Fidalgo Soccer Challenge ... The New England Revolution will host the third-annual Jorge Fidalgo Memorial Soccer Challenge at Gillette Stadium at 3 p.m. on Sunday, August 27, in the first game of a doubleheader. The Revs will face the Columbus Crew at 7 p.m., following the Jorge Fidalgo Soccer Challenge. The Soccer Challenge recognizes the legacy of Jorge Fidalgo and will feature Cape Verdean and Brazilian all-star teams composed of top players from the local community. Fidalgo was a respected Cape Verdean leader, radio-show host, activist, avid soccer player and fan who was murdered near his Roxbury store in 2001. He was also the president of Boston's Cape Verde United Soccer Club that competed in the Latin American Soccer Association.

La Revolution En Español ... For the second consecutive week, the Revolution game against Los Angeles will be broadcast in Spanish by WJDA 1300 AM. Pedro Rosalez will provide the play-by-play call for the match, while Marino Velasquez will give the Spanish listeners analysis of the action. Baltazar Palencia will be the sideline reporter.

Attention Media This season, all approved applicants will pick up their credentials at Gillette Stadium Media Will Call on Revolution game days only. Every approved media member must pick up their own credential in person and must present a valid drivers license or other approved form of positive identification in order to receive their credentials. There will be no exceptions to this policy. Please note that single season-long credentials are not being issued by the Revolution; media approved for the season will receive a day-of-game pass for each game.

REVOLUTION COACHING STAFF

STEVE NICOL

REGULAR-SEASON RECORD WITH THE REVS:

HEAD COACH (1999, 2002-PRESENT)

50-41-28 (.538)

Now entering his fifth season at the helm of the Revolution, Steve Nicol was named head coach of the team on November 6, 2002, after serving as the interim head coach for the final 21 games of the 2002 regular season and the postseason.

The hiring marked yet another impressive accomplishment in the Scotland native's distinguished career. During his playing days Nicol, 44, gained worldwide fame while playing for Liverpool in England's top division before moving on to play for Notts County, West Bromwich Albion, Sheffield Wednesday and Doncaster Rovers.

Nicol, who was born in the Scottish town of Troon, began his pro career at the age of 18 with Ayr United before being signed by Liverpool in 1981. The £300,000 transfer fee remains the Ayr United club record.

While with Liverpool, Nicol made 467 appearances as a defender and midfielder and scored 46 goals. He was at the heart of a Liverpool side that won four English League Titles, three F.A. Cup Titles and the 1984 European Cup. In 1989, his importance to the team was honored when Britain's soccer writers named him Footballer of the Year. Between 1984 and 1992 Nicol appeared 27 times for the Scottish National Team, and started for his country at the 1986 World Cup in Mexico.

Nicol's coaching career began in 1995 when he was named player/manager at Notts County. Four years later, he arrived in New England as a player/assistant coach with the Boston Bulldogs. In September of that year, he joined the Revs as interim coach for the final two games of the season, both of which were Revolution wins. He returned to the Bulldogs as a player/coach for the 2000 and 2001 season before re-joining the Revs as an assistant coach prior to the 2002 campaign.

Nicol was named the 2002 MLS Coach of the Year after leading the Revolution within a goal of the MLS Cup. In 2003 and 2004, he led the Revs to within an extra time goal and a penalty kick shootout, respectively, of making the league final. He coached the Revs to his second MLS Cup final in 2005, after winning the Eastern Conference Championship with New England for a second time. Nicol was also honored for his coaching excellence in August 2005, when he was chosen to lead the MLS Select XI against Real Madrid at the Santiago Bernabeu Stadium.

Nicol resides in Hopkinton, Mass., with his wife, Eleanor, his son, Michael, and his daughter, Katy.

PAUL MARINER

ASSISTANT COACH (2004-PRESENT)

Paul Mariner is now in his third season as Steve Nicol's first assistant coach.

Born in Bolton, Lancashire, England, Mariner is remembered by world soccer fans as one of the top center forwards in English football in the late 1970s and early 80s. He won 35 international caps playing for his country, and led the England attack in the 1982 FIFA World Cup. He is the co-holder for the England National Team record for goal scoring in consecutive games (6).

After starting his professional club career with Plymouth Argyle, Mariner scored 97 goals in eight seasons for Ipswich Town from 1976-84, before playing three seasons with Arsenal FC in London.

Mariner's many honors as a player include winning the 1978 FA Cup Final with Ipswich Town, a game in which he was named Man of the Match, despite not being the goal scorer, in the memorable 1-0 classic win over Arsenal. He was also a key member of the 1981 UEFA Cup-winning Ipswich Town team. He scored for England vs. France in the 1982 World Cup and also scored in a qualifying match against Hungary on November 18, 1981, a 1-0 victory that put England through to the 1982 World Cup.

Mariner came to the United States in 1988 to coach the Albany Capitals of the APSL. Most recently, Mariner was an assistant to former Revs forward and current Harvard University head men's soccer coach John Kerr, Jr. Mariner has also served as Technical Director for the FC Greater Boston Bolts, one of the top youth soccer clubs in the U.S.

DAVID VANOLE

The Revolution announced the hiring of former U.S. National team goalkeeper David Vanole on June 1, 2004 as an Assistant Coach.

After playing goalkeeper at UCLA and winning the 1985 NCAA National Championship with the Bruins, Vanole went on to be the starting keeper for the U.S. National Team. He made more than 100 appearances in goal for the U.S. including all three matches at the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, Korea. Vanole began coaching at the college level at San Diego State University and then Loyola Marymount University, before returning to his alma mater in 1995, where he served as an assistant coach for both the UCLA men's and women's soccer teams. In the six years that Vanole was with the UCLA Men's program (1995-2000), the Bruins had great success, including winning the 1997 NCAA National Championship. Vanole also earned three years of experience as an assistant coach with the U.S. Men's U-20 National Team (1997-1999) and two years as an assistant coach with the U.S. Women's National Team (1999-2000), during which the team won a silver medal at the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia. Vanole began his professional coaching career with the WUSA Washington Freedom in 2001. While he was with the Freedom, Washington was the 2002 WUSA Founders Cup Runner-up and the 2003 WUSA Founder Cup Champions. In 2003, Vanole also served as an assistant coach with D.C. United, being primarily responsible for daily development of team's goalkeepers.
